Accounting – a growing industry

Accounting is much more than crunching numbers. It involves interpreting financial information to allow informed decisions about what to do in a business. If you become an accountant, you'll become a financial 'mechanic' able to diagnose financial issues within a business and help fix them.

Australia's economy is moving from resources to services. In the next 20-30 years, we'll see a lot more people doing knowledge-based work, rather than physical labour. The skills that accountants use are transferrable between industries, all across Australia. That's part of why there are hundreds of accounting jobs advertised every month. In other words, accounting is a particularly exciting field.

And you're about to become part of it.
